>Welcome to the Classic Science Labs!
The Timeless Force of Mr. Newton

I DO NOT THINK THIS IS VERY FUNNY...

Welcome to the Classic Science Lab! This course, "The Timeless Force of Mr. Newton," may be the first "class-to-class" course you ever truly experience during your professional development.

What does "class-to-class" mean?

Well, each of the weekly activities and readings you are about to explore can be directly used by your students. That's right! The readings you will be exploring come from an actual elementary science textbook and the discussion questions you will complete can easily be integrated into your classrooms as well.

This class is designed to take the bricks out of the briefcase for you. The language has been created for the elementary student and will be easily mastered by you. You will undoubtedly look at the world with a scientific eye after completing this course! So... let's get started!
