

Vaccine Immunity

During vaccination, a vaccine with dead or harmless forms of viruses, bacteria or other organisms is injected into your system (left). The vaccine stimulates your immune system to produce antibodies against the organisms (center). Any time you're exposed to this germ after vaccination, the antibodies in your immune system attack and stop the infection (right).